WAIVER OF CONFLICT OF INTEREST

It is common for a husband and wife to employ the same lawyer to assist them in planning their estates. You should know that you are free to retain separate counsel if you would like to do so. You have each chosen to ask us to represent both of you in your estate planning. It is important that you understand that because we will be representing both of you, you are considered our client collectively. Accordingly, any matter that one of you might discuss with us may be disclosed to the other of you. Ethical considerations prohibit us from agreeing with either of you to withhold information from the other. Of course, anything either of you discusses with us is privileged from disclosure to third parties.

If a conflict of interest arises between you during the course of your planning or if the two of you have difference of opinion, we can point out the "pros and cons" of your respective positions or differing opinions. However, ethical considerations prohibit us, as the lawyers for both of you, from advocating one of your positions over the other. Furthermore, we would not be able to advocate one of your positions versus the other if there is a dispute at any time as to your respective property rights or interests or as to other legal issues between you. If actual conflicts of interest do arise between you of such a nature that in my judgment it is impossible for us to perform our ethical obligations to both of you, it would become necessary for us to withdraw as your joint lawyers.

Once documentation is executed to put into place the planning that you have hired us to implement, our engagement will be concluded and our attorney-client relationship will terminate. If you need our services in the future, please feel free to contact us and renew our relationship. In the meantime, we will not take any further action with reference to your affairs unless and until we hear otherwise from you.

If you have any questions about anything discussed in this Waiver, please let us know. In addition, you should feel free to consult with another lawyer about the effect of signing this Waiver.

CONSENT

By returning this questionnaire or proceeding with an appointment with onnors organ LL , you acknowledge that (i) you have read the foregoing Waiver and understand its contents, (ii) you consent to having onnors organ LL represent you on the terms and conditions set forth and (iii) you agree that the attorneys at onnors organ LL may, in their discretion, share with both of you any information regarding the representation that is received from either of you or any other source.
